Method of Computing Per Day Usage of Library

Data from various sources is collected for the calculation of per day usage of library.

1. Circulation Section (Daily circulation of books issue/return)
2. Actual visit to library as per visit record of the library (visit for newspaper reading, book reading, reference section, reprographic section, other library services, and etc.)
3. Use of N-List E-resources
4. Visit to online library portal of the library

While calculating per day usage, first working days of the library were calculated. Data from the above four sources is collected to calculate the total visitors of the library. The number of total visitors were divided by the number of working days to calculate the per day usage of the library.

Per day usage between the year 2021-2022

Total working days	= 293
Number of total visitors	=1815
Number of books circulated (issue and return)	= 601
Visit to E-library portal	= 158
Number of N-list users	= 42
Total	= 2616

Average per day usage = 8.9 equals to 9 users per day.
